ACTIVITIES OF FIRE DEPT. FOR 1933 ARE REVIEWED

Answer 44 Calls; Pump & Tank Are Installed in August

The Antioch Volunteer Fire Department answered forty-four fire calls during the past year ending October 24 with the closing of the books, according to the annual report read by Sec. John Horan before the Village Board Tuesday evening.

The estimated values of property where fires were fought by the Antioch department amounted to $190,400, while the amount of insurance carried on the properties, according to reports of the owners, was $76,300, the estimated loss amounting to $88,735.

There were fewer grass fires this year than in previous years, due, it is believed, to the fact that cards were posted in the various subdivisions calling attention of the property owners to a clean-up before returning to the city for the winter.

Within the village of Antioch, the Cupboard fire and the fire in the Dupre residence were the only large losses listed.

New Equipment Installed
The department placed into service last August a new 350 gallon pumper, with tank attached holding 500 gallons of water. Seven hundred feet of 1 1/2 inch hose are used in connection with the tank and the usual 1 1/2 inch hard hose for buster purposes is also used, giving the department two companies of men, both with pumps rating 350 gallons per minute and fully equipped.

A first aid squad was organized during the summer, and an inhalator and other equipment was purchased. This squad was active at three drownings.

The County Firemen's Convention held here last May was one of the outstanding events of the year, as it increased interest in Antioch as well as County Fire Department proceedings. Other events were the dinner held in the fall of 1932, a show last April, and several social events. Antioch was well represented by delegates to the Illinois Firemen's Convention at Rockford, and at all county meetings.

The new administration of the department for 1934 consists of a new president, Robert Wilton; John Horan, secretary, and George Garland, treasurer.

Lake Villa Man Found Dead Under Overturned Car

A verdict of accidental death from injuries received when his car turned over on him was returned by a coroner's jury in the inquest into the death of William Martenka, Monaville, held by Coroner John L. Taylor at Straug's Undertaking Home here Tuesday morning.

The victim was found at 1:30 Monday afternoon, pinned under his overturned car on route 59 near Fox Lake, a half mile south of Grand Ave. Dr. M. H. Gludch, Lake Villa, was called and found the man to be dead, death being caused by head and chest injuries.

It is not known how the accident happened, as there were no close eye-witnesses. However, it is said that Ray Walsh, a special deputy sheriff, and two companions were in sight, and declared that Martenka's car swerved, and then suddenly headed for the ditch and turned over.

Little is known about the man's life. He was about fifty-five years old, had lived in Lake County ten years, and was employed as a gardener and landscaper near Lake Villa. He was not married.

H. S. JUNIOR PLAY, "PENROD" TO BE ON TONIGHT AND FRIDAY

Four-Act Comedy Abounds in Fun, Mischief, Love and Adventure

The adventurous, lovable "Penrod," made immortal in the world of literature by the pen of Booth Tarkington, will appear "in person" with rollicking mischief and fun tonight and tomorrow night, Nov. 9 and 10, when the Junior class of the Antioch Township High School present the play, "Penrod," a comedy in four acts, at the high school auditorium.

Mrs. G. E. Phillips, who has undertaken the difficult task of directing two separate casts for the play, seemed assured that the production of this play which is entirely different from any which has been produced in the past few years, will be equally as pleasing and entertaining.

The scenes will take place in and about a two-story house with a veranda and glass window, which is being built by the farm mechanics class under the direction of C. L. Kottl.

Peaceful Opening Scene
The opening scene is described by Miss Betty Bray, publicity chairman, as follows: It is a beautiful summer day. Hollyhocks are growing alongside the pretty, white fence. Birds are twittering and wasps buzzing about gaily. Into this atmosphere of serene beauty stalks the dark and handsome villain, Mr. Dade.

The young characters from Booth Tarkington's famous and beloved book live before you. With their boyish intuition Penrod and Sam suspect and shadow Mr. Dade, and reveal to Penrod's beautiful sister Margaret the results of their investigations.

The handsome young hero Bob, is portrayed by Stuart Olsen and Fowle Simpson, who both seem to have a natural ability to play the fond love scenes. A similar comment might be said of the heroine, Margaret, who is portrayed by Jane Warriner and Ruth China.

There's Comedy—Plus

Herman and Vermin are the comedy highlights of the play, appearing at frequent intervals to keep the audience in continuous laughter.

Mr. Schofield, the fond father of Penrod, is quite an affable person until aroused—but when he does, the surrounding atmosphere certainly rises a few degrees.

Features of the play will include a thunderstorm and realistic hornets.

Before the play and between the acts, special music will be played by the high school orchestra.

CONGRESSMAN JAMES SIMPSON TO ADDRESS ANTIOCH MEN'S CLUB

The Honorable James Simpson, Jr., U. S. Congressman for this District, will be the guest speaker at the first fall meeting of the Men's Club Thursday evening, Nov. 16. A dinner and general get-together will be held in the M. E. church parlors. The dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m., by the ladies of the church, followed by a program, all the details of which have not yet been arranged. The meeting is open to all the men of the community.

JIM McMILLEN TO MEET LONDOS FOR MAT CROWN

Title Bout to Be Held in Chicago Stadium on November 22

Jim McMillen, Antioch wrestler, who recently won the right to a shot at the mat crown by defeating Joe Stetcher, the scissor king of Nebraska, at the Chicago stadium, will meet the Greek demon, Jim Londos, champion of the world's heavyweight wrestling crown at the stadium November 22. Both McMillen and Londos have posted $1,000 with the stadium management to assure the match, Ed White, manager of the demon acting for Londos who is in Greece. Londos is due to arrive in New York Nov. 15.

While there has always existed a difference of opinion regarding the mat crown, the coming match between Londos and McMillen will be for the world's heavyweight championship so far as the Illinois Athletic Commission is concerned, as the local commission believes that Londos has a better claim to the crown than any other grappler.

The champion has been in constant training, and while in Argos, Greece, his home, did plenty of mountain climbing. He will continue his training on board the ocean liner on his return trip to New York.

McMillen who is considered one of the strongest contenders for the crown, is a former University of Illinois football star, and much of his success on the mat is due to the fact that he carried into the ring gridiron tactics, his specialty known as the flying tackle, winning many tough bouts for the former football player.

The McMillens recently completed a fine home in Antioch. Jim, who always keeps himself in fine fettle, is enjoying the duck hunting season here between training stunts. Many Antioch and Grayslake friends of the wrestler will be at the ringside when time is called for the big bout November 22.

SCHROEDER ESTATE SOLD AT AUCTION FOR $200 PER ACRE

The old Schroeder homestead of 65 acres located on Milwaukee avenue five miles south of Libertyville, was sold at auction Saturday. The purchaser was E. R. Rosenthal of the M. B. C. Investment company, who is said to have bought the place for a summer residence. The price paid was $200 per acre.

The personal effects were also sold at auction. Hay brought $8.50 a ton, horses sold as high as $180, corn 50 cents a bushel, and farming machinery brought the same price that was paid for it 15 years ago, according to the owner, Mrs. Carrie M. Schroeder. L. C. Christensen and Son, of Racine, were the auctioneers.

Selling real estate at auction is somewhat new in this locality according to Mr. Christensen.

The Schroeder estate was one of the few remaining original homesteads in this locality. Mrs. Schroeder will move to Libertyville.

PHEASANT SEASON OPENS TOMORROW

The shooting season on pheasants opens tomorrow morning and will continue through until sundown November 16. The prospects for a plentiful crop do not appear to be very great, as the slaughter on these birds during the last three years has considerably reduced their number.

The general assembly neglected to pass the game code three years ago, thus allowing hunters an unlimited bag without fear of arrest. Illegal shooting during the last two years has brought about a reduction to such an extent that restocking by the state was unable to make up the loss. The state has ordered its wardens to use extra precaution in the Chicago area.

A daily bag limit of two cocks and no hens each day during the limited season is provided by law. The quail season opens here also.

Democratic "Expert" Shares Horner Economy

Jake Hausman, Democratic chairman in Fayette county, is back home after working for 30 days as a state inspector at race tracks in Collinsville and Chicago at $50 a day, or $1,500 for the 30 days, under the Horner economy system.

New Sub Launched for Our Navy

Looking much like the sleek sperm whale for which it was named, Uncle Sam's newest undersea craft, the Cachet, takes to its element as it slides down the ways at Portsmouth, N. H. After rigid trials this winter it will be stationed on the west coast. The submarine is 274 feet long and the very latest of its type.

Local Club Raps Out-of-town Printing; Prepare Petition

Democratic Group Asks for Ordinance to Stop Lit- tering Town

The practice of littering Antioch streets, lawns and doorsteps with advertising posters, circulars and other advertising matter will be shortlisted if the village council sees fit to take favorable action upon a petition being prepared by the local Democratic Club. Such a petition was drawn by the executive committee of the local Club Tuesday night, according to George E. Phillips.

Almost daily Antioch is flooded with the advertising of out-of-town merchants who seek to lure Antioch dollars away from the home community. Phillips stated. Hence, the petition, the provisions of which the Democratic Club hopes to see enacted into an ordinance. The resolution, however, makes an exception of advertising printed in Antioch, and whether in accordance with existing statutes or not, it must be said the Jeffersonians believe in keeping Antioch dollars in Antioch working for the home community.

Other towns are taking steps to prevent the invasion of so-called "foreign" advertising, to the end that local dollars remain in their respective communities, committee members stated.

Line Up Workers

A list of available workers to be employed in cases of emergency, such as heavy snows, is being prepared by Frank Maeline, precinct captain, and Charles McCorkle, state highway patrolman, who are acting as a subcommittee of the executive group. Men who are out of work and who would like to be placed on this list should report to members of the executive committee.

Maplethorpe Gives Citizenship Talk At Grade School

The Next American Legion Talk to Be Given by Rev. Sitter

The first of a series of talks sponsored by the American Legion was given before the grade school children Monday afternoon by Arthur Maplethorpe, American Legion officer of this post and district. Another talk will be given at the grade school Monday, November 20, at 3:30 by Rev. L. V. Sitter.

These talks are being given to promote the worthwhile work of developing better citizens of the young Americans, who will uphold the U. S. laws and defend the constitution.

An American Legion Medal will be presented to the boy and girl of the graduation class who best represents the qualities of character and ability which will result in good citizenship, in the opinion of the Legion Post members of the eighth grade, and the instructor, at the time of the graduation exercises.

In deciding upon them, an appraisal standard is used, rating 20 per cent for each of the following points: honor, courage, scholarship, leadership and service.

A mass meeting will be held for women on Friday, November 10th, at the First Methodist Church, 130 N. Ulton Street, Waukegan, from 2 to 4 p. m. There will be good speakers and special music.

OTIS HOTEL IS DESTROYED BY FIRE; WAS OLD LANDMARK

Resort Hostelry Owned by Ed Sbarboro Burnt Early Today

LOSS REPORTED TO BE $12,000

The Otis Hotel, large 25-room structure located six miles south of Antioch on the north side of Fox Lake, was completely destroyed by fire shortly before two o'clock this morning. The building was owned by Ed Sbarboro, who also owns and operates the Liberty Inn north of Antioch, where he is living.

Cause of the fire is unknown, according to members of the Antioch Fire Department, who were called too late to save the hotel. The fire was discovered by John Belknap, who first informed the Fox Lake fire department of the fire. The call finally came through to Antioch at 1:50, but by the time the department reached the scene the building was so far demolished by flames that efforts to save it would have been useless.

The hotel was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

The hotel was insured for $5,000, but the estimated value, according to Mr. Sbarboro, was about $12,000. There was no insurance on the contents of the building. Mr. Sbarboro, who said that a visit had been made to the hotel only yesterday, could offer no cause for the fire, and expressed much consternation upon learning of it.

Other Buildings Saved

Near the hotel, which stood on the old Raemakers estate, were a laundry, a dancing pavilion, and sleeping quarters of eight or ten rooms, none of which were damaged by the fire. A fire was discovered in the hotel last spring by Mr. Sbarboro, and extinguished without aid of a fire department. It was said at that time that mattresses had been saturated with kerosene.

COUNTY RECEIVES 56,000 LBS. SALT PORK FOR NEEDY

The Lake County Relief Commission has received 56,000 pounds of dry cured pork from the federal government for the use of the county's poor and needy. Distribution was begun immediately, but as yet none has been received for use in the Antioch township, according to Supervisor William Rosine.

This pork will be in addition to the regular allotment of money to the county by the Illinois Emergency Relief, William F. Kirkham, chairman of the Lake County division was informed. It is believed that further monthly shipments will be made, and that this will be outside the usual financial allotment, which for November is $62,200.

Miss Betty Warriner Is Honored at Madison

High scholastic attainments in preparatory school work and a satisfactory psychological test won for Miss Betty Warriner an honor accorded to only a few freshmen at the University of Wisconsin when she was invited to the freshmen scholastic banquet at Madison Nov. 1. The banquet is an annual event held for 25 per cent of the freshmen class who rank highest in preparatory work and preliminary tests at the university.

Miss Warriner is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Warriner of Antioch.

Woman to Go to Trial for Murder of Woodstock Man

Mrs. Fred Gethman, wife of a Woodstock farmer, will go to trial Monday, Nov. 13, in the McHenry County Circuit Court before Judge Edward D. Shurtliff, on charges of murdering John A. Thompson, 45, Woodstock farmer.

Self-defense is to be the basis of Mrs. Gethman's defense in the slaying, which occurred October 21, after an alleged drinking party.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sheen, Mrs. Ada Guest, and Mrs. W. F. Van Dusen, drove to Lake Geneva Thursday to visit Mrs. Laura Klecka, who has been ill the past month. She is somewhat improved at present. Mrs. Guest returned to Madison to stay with her son, Russell, who is attending the university at Madison, Wis.

YES—BUILD NOW!

How would this proposition strike you? You are given a chance to purchase something you need—something that will be of permanent and increasing value to you and your family—for a fraction of what it will cost within a year or so. And, at the same time, by buying it you will be expediting recovery, putting men to work at good wages in a hundred industries, and stimulating businesses of all kinds in your own town.

That's certainly an attractive proposition—and it's not fictional. The investment is construction. Individual home building and repairing is one of the most important factors in the recovery program. And, so far, the construction industry has shown less pickup than any business of comparable size.

During the present winter it will be possible to build well and build cheaply. You can obtain a house for a few thousand dollars that would have cost twice the price four years ago—and probably will again four years hence. The same thing is true of repairs of all kinds—from those rickety steps you've been vaguely meaning to have fixed for six months, to that roof which has suddenly developed a leak. And—here is something to think about—one-third of the people on the relief rolls in the larger cities are normally engaged or supported by the construction industry. Starting home-building on a national scale is all that will bring back their jobs.

Yes—build now! You'll never regret it. Get that bargain in homes that is being offered you—and have the satisfaction of knowing that you're doing your part to prevent privation and want during the coming winter.

THE FARM STRIKE GROWS

Speaking of fires, the U. S. has one of its own. It's consuming the prairie country. Not a liberal blaze, it is in the minds and hearts of farmers, who believe the AAA has failed to aid them; have watched their purchasing power, in many instances, go sharply down while other prices went sharply up. The Administration is frankly worried as the farm strike movement grows, takes in more farmers, more kinds of products, more states. Milo Reno, who can be both a fire eater and a fire maker, came into sight again with his Farm Holiday Association, told his followers to buy nothing, sell nothing, pay no taxes and no debts, until selling price at least reached cost price. Two governors expressed themselves as being in sympathy with farmers' strikes.

Whole future of the Administration farm program is at stake and strongest efforts will be given to bringing order from chaos.

A FUNDAMENTAL ECONOMIC DOCTRINE

Lifting industry and trade out of the depression by stimulating consumption and productive investments is the primary goal of the German government's economic program, according to an announcement made at the Grand Economic Council in Berlin, as reported by the New York Times. The Council recommended that these ends be achieved not through the continuance or furtherance of state control or competition with business, but through private initiative and enterprise. The government is to start things moving—and let private interests go on from there.

One need not be an admirer of the present German government to appreciate the significance of this. Germany, like most of the European powers, has experimented deviously and at length with one panacea or another for social and economic ills. It has tried direct government competition. It has tried stringent regulation of business. And it has been found that the troubles these measures created were usually more severe and more difficult of solution than the troubles they were designed to correct.

Here in the United States there is danger that we may make a similar mistake. The way to prevent this is to realize that things which are done, of necessity, in times of emergency, must not be allowed to develop into a status quo that will extend on when the emergency has passed.

Mr. Roosevelt in his whole great recovery program, has continually emphasized the emergency idea himself. It is up to the public to see that other and smaller men, in state and local as well as national government, do not hamper him by distorting original plans in an attempt to create an American variety of communistic control of business and the individual.

History demonstrates that when the citizens of a nation come to depend on government as the tree that will support them in all times, it has started on the long road that leads to oblivion.

YOUR CHILD'S LARGER HOME

A Thought for National Educational Week

The school is your child's larger home. It shares with you as a parent the faith and the hope that the life of your child will be fine and right. Carefully trained teachers know, even as you know, that the foundations of life are laid in simple, everyday habits. They know that the child who is well and happy, who is punctual and regular, who is helpful to his parents, his associates, and his teachers, and who is eager to learn is well on his way toward a good life. The school is a garden of growing children. It has taken centuries of effort to win the right to have schools for children. There have always been those who would deny this opportunity. There are those who would deny it now. You as a parent, because of the knowledge of what the school does for your child, will wish to cherish and protect this, your child's larger home. Like food, clothing, and shelter, the common school is one of the primary necessities. Let us safeguard our children's school. It is a garden of growing children.

How to Eat for Health and Beauty

Yes, that's Wynne Gibson hiding behind that glass of milk. Miss Gibson is one of Paramount's featured players.

WYNNE GIBSON evidently believes in insuring herself against losing that sunny complexion Paramount has made famous, for in that glass of milk she's getting an abundance of Vitamin G, which helps "preserve the characteristics of youth"; calcium, another youth preserver; Vitamin A, which builds resistance against infections, including those of the skin; and iron, which has so much to do with the rosy color in the cheeks.

Marshall's "Ordeal By Glory" Tells of Struggle to Power

The opening chapters of "Ordeal by Glory" by James Marshall deal in interesting fashion with the boyhood of a lad living just prior to the civil war. It recounts how he helped a slave to remain concealed in the barn, and of the impression which this deed made upon him.

His boyhood was filled with a fear of his father, a man of stubborn ideas who believed strongly that sons should remain on the farm, without benefit of education, and of admiration for "Cousin Charlie."

While still in his teens, he had an opportunity to serve in a neighbor's place in the Civil War, and he took advantage of this chance of release from the farm.

His life from then on was one of struggle toward a higher position—in political stations, as a lawyer, and business man. He eventually married—but from then on, the book loses a little of its interest—it is centered too much on his affairs and less on him as a human being—and besides the years pass on rapidly that there is no chance to unfold and develop more situations of interest. Somehow, one expects more from his marriage—but life goes along almost too smoothly.

"On the whole, the book is well-written, and presents an accurate picture of people and circumstances of the nineteenth century, without lingering too long on any one decade.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Grade School Is Lauded by Ass't State School Supt.

Teachers' Work Is Commendable; Equipment Is Satisfactory

The following letter, approving the instruction and equipment of the Antioch Grade school, was written to Arthur Hawkins, secretary of the Board of Education, following the inspection visit of Charles H. Watts, assistant State Superintendent of schools.

Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction
Springfield, Illinois
Oct. 18, 1933

To Board of Education
Antioch School District No. 34
Lake County, Ill.
Dear Sirs:

Today your County Superintendent Mr. Petty and I visited your school. I was pleased to see your school and to meet your teachers. The children were orderly, industrious and responsive. The teachers in the various rooms seem to be well suited to the work that they must do. Mr. Clabaugh has given the school good organization, exact direction, and effective leadership. In considering both teachers and pupils, your school is very satisfactory. It appears that some of your teachers have special abilities in music, art and other special subjects, and that they are rendering very fine service to the children in subjects that have spiritual and refining values.

Your new building is most excellent in all its appointments for the convenience of teachers and children. The old building is in good repair and is clean throughout. The rooms of this building have been cleaned and decorated and are arranged to suit the needs of good school room procedure. In a check-up of supplies, it appears that you have furnished in ample quantity the supplies needed by the teachers in serving your children. I have every confidence that such supplies as may be needed will be furnished promptly.

Your primary room is artistic and period-like in all its details. Mrs. Lux is giving the little ones a fine start and is doing much to make the fine surroundings a part of the life and living of the children. I commend you for having so good a school. It will be a joy to remember it.

When you make improvements or purchase supplies, please confer with Mr. Petty as he can help you to secure correct service.

Very truly yours,

Chas. H. Watts,
Assistant Supt.

NO SCHOOL MONDAY

There will be no classes held at the Grade or High school Monday, because of the meeting of the Lake Shore division of the Illinois State Teachers' Association to be held at the Evanston Township high school. It also has been declared an Institute Day by Co. Supt. W. C. Petty.

H. S. MUSIC DEPARTMENT TO PRESENT CONCERT

A concert presented by the various musical organizations of the Antioch Township high school will be held in the auditorium Friday evening, Nov. 17. There will be selections by the orchestra, chorus, girls' Glee Club, and Jazz Band, under the direction of Hans Von Holwede.

Following the concert there will be dancing for those who care to remain.

Two Basketball Teams To Play Off Tournament Tie

Bishop's and Moroz' Teams to Clash; Faculty to Meet Runners-up

A play-off of the standing tie between the two winners of the high school intramural basketball tournament recently held will be scheduled shortly, according to Coach Thomas Cox.

Bob Bishop's team, composed of Bishop, Ray Hussey, Bob Corney, Clayton Bartlett, and Harold Edwards, proved themselves the winner of the winning teams, and Pete Moroz' team, of Moroz, Dan Williams, Butch Newman, Ray King and Everett Truxer were the winners of the losers in the "two-way" tournament.

As a preliminary to the championship game just mentioned, a faculty team composed of Coach Cox, Prin. L. O. Bright, Fred Hackett, H. H. Reichers, and the janitor, Mr. Horton, will play one of the runners-up of the tournament.

Miss Cornelia Roberts, instructor of History and English, and treasurer of the Suburban Deans' Association,

Army of 6000 "Unemployed" Builds Better Roads for New York County

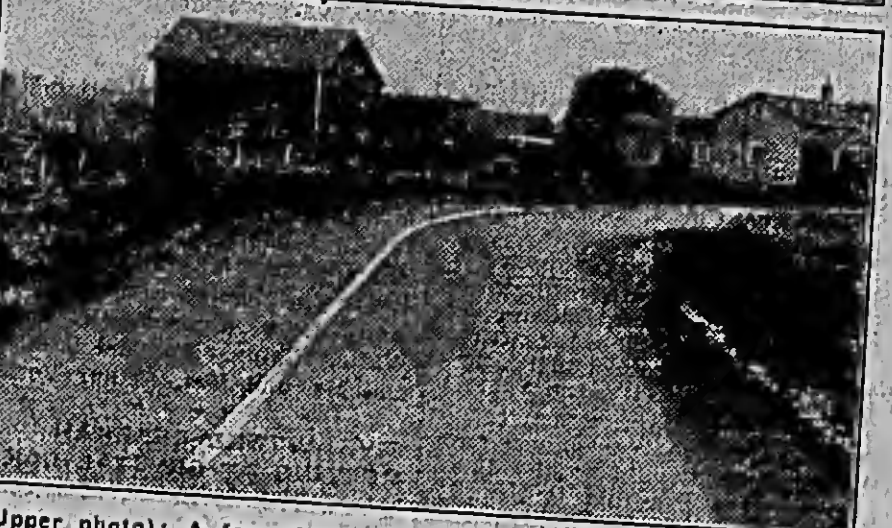

"UNEMPLOYED" seems a misnomer for the army of 6000 men in Onondaga County, New York, who instead of being dependent upon welfare and relief organizations are cheerfully and busily at work building improved, low-cost roads for the county.

The men are from all walks of life. Many of them are of the "white collar" class. The foreman of one of the gangs was formerly a highly paid appraiser for a local bank. Another of the road workers was formerly the leader of a jazz orchestra. So efficient have their labors been, and so outstanding are the results of the program as a whole, that the project has been inspected by literally scores of county officials and highway engineers from neighboring counties and states.

The extra cost of keeping the men at work on the roads, over and above the cost of having them on the welfare list, has been ten dollars per month per man. In return for this slight extra expenditure the county is obtaining 286 miles of highways of a type that is arousing the enthusiastic approval of taxpayers and residents along their routes.

Construction plans call for gravel treated with calcium chloride to provide a "soil concrete" surface—smooth, hard, dustless and durable. That the resulting surfaces well deserve the name of "soil concrete" is proved by the fact that they are difficult to dig into even with a pickaxe. Although it has not been the usual practice to paint traffic markers on anything but concrete or asphalt surfaces, the degree of surface stabilization attained on these calcium chloride treated gravel roads has permitted use of such markers.

The cost of the roads included in Onondaga County's low-cost road

(Upper photo): A few of the army of 6000 "unemployed" who are building better roads for Onondaga County, New York. (Lower photo): The presence of the traffic marker graphically illustrates the smooth, hard, durable surface presented by the county's new, low-cost roads.

unemployment relief program is approximately fifteen per cent of the cost of highways built under previous programs. While Onondaga County probably presents the most striking example of the results of such a combination program, similar highways have been developed in other Eastern and Middle Western states. Such highways provide additional evidence of the manner in which the nation is entering upon a new era of low-cost road development that promises vast improvement of the farm-to-market and secondary road system.

clation, and Miss Betty Bray, a junior, attended the Girls' Convention held at the Lyons Township High School at La Grange Saturday. Plans for the spring Girls' Conference to be held at the Highland Park high school were discussed, and the theme, "Ideals, Future, and Happiness of Girls" chosen.

Charles Anderson High in Arithmetic

The Arithmetic Skyride Contest which has been conducted by the fifth grade members since the beginning of the year was concluded

Friday with Charles Anderson heading the list, and Irene Pachay and Quentin Quentner tied for second.

B. B. PRACTICE STARTS

Basketball practice for the older boys of the Antioch grade school will start this week, according to Prin. Ralph E. Clabaugh. The first game scheduled will be at Fox Lake November 25.

Don't fool yourself. The fellow who said, "every time a man borrows trouble he pays the interest in worry," was right.

Girl Scout News

The Girl Scouts went on an observation leaf hunt all over town Friday afternoon, the object being to find as many different kinds of leaves as possible. Each patrol was divided into groups of two.

Upon their return to Carolyn Phillips' home, it was found that White Bear and Nightingale Patrols were tied for first with fifty leaves, Lion having 41, and Bluebird 23. Each member of the winning patrol received one point.

Seven 'N' Six Club Enjoys Treasure Hunt

A real old-fashioned treasure hunt which wound all over town and back again was enjoyed by the members of the Seven 'N' Six Club when they met for their bi-weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Lux. The entire treasure hunt was planned and all "hints" made by Charles Lux.

After trailing around in odd corners after clues, the members found themselves before Mayor George Barlett to request the key to the city. They were sent to the Village Board to repeat their request, and the motion was made by Nason Sibley and seconded by E. O. Hawkins that the key be given them.

After further wandering, the treasure was really found—or rather dug—from the vacant lot back of the Lux barn. The bloody thirteen proceeded to open the pirate chest and found three boxes of chocolates.

Four tables of bridge were played afterwards, honors going to Mrs. H. E. Reischers, Mrs. Rex Simms, Mrs. Oliver Johnson, and Mrs. Robert Wilton.

GEORGE SELBY CELEBRATES HIS 80TH BIRTHDAY

A duck dinner, in honor of George Selby's eightieth birthday, was held at the William Keulman home Sunday, with about twenty-five relatives present.

Mr. Selby is well known around here, having spent most of his life around Silver Lake, Wis. For nearly forty years he was employed on the Soo line near Silver Lake, from the time of its construction almost fifty years ago, when it was known as the Wisconsin Central. During the time he worked as section boss, there were no wrecks or mishaps due to faulty construction on the section. Later he worked in the tower, until about ten years ago when he was pensioned.

Mr. Selby has four children living, Mrs. Charles Schultz, of Bristol, Charles Selby, Silver Lake, Mrs. Frank Finch, Elkhorn, Wis., and Mrs. William Keulman, Antioch, three of whom were present at the celebration.

The Lake Villa Woman's Club meeting at Allendale Tuesday afternoon was attended by Mrs. John Horan, Mrs. William Osmond, Mrs. H. B. Gaston, Mrs. H. H. Grimm, Mrs. S. B. Nelson, Mrs. F. R. King, Mrs. Ben Burke, Mrs. Nason Sibley, Mrs. Fred Swanson, Mrs. P. E. Chinn, Mrs. Charles Powles, Mrs. George Anzinger, and Mrs. Monte Miller.

Members from Long Lake, Fox Lake, and Grayslake also were present. A very interesting program had been arranged, including a talk on the building of a new church at Wilmette, and several melodies whistled by Mrs. Langworthy.

SURPRISE PARTY IS HELD FOR LESTER NELSON

A surprise party was arranged in honor of Lester Nelson's birthday Monday evening by Mrs. Lester Nelson and fourteen friends. In addition to receiving a line sweater from the group, Mr. Nelson received a number of "white elephant" tokens.

Five hundred was played, the ladies' prize going to Mrs. Hugh Huffendick, Mrs. Myrus Nelson, Mrs. Leonard Case, and the men's prizes to Myrus Nelson, Hugh Huffendick, and Leonard Case.

Before departing all the guests enjoyed a lunch, and joined the "Cackle Club."

WOMAN'S CLUB HAS IMPROMPTU CARD PARTY

Disappointed over the failure of the speaker scheduled to appear before the Woman's Club meeting at the Guild Hall Monday, the members turned the meeting into a card party. Members from Grayslake, Lake Villa, and Fox Lake were present and brief talks were given by Mrs. Al B. Moler, president of the Lake Villa Club and Mrs. F. W. Jensen, Fox Lake president. Card prizes were won by Mrs. Charles Powles, Mrs. Walter Raisinkus, Fox Lake, and Mrs. P. E. Chinn.

GRAYSLAKE NOBLE GRAND ACTS AT REBEKAH MEETING

Mrs. Belle Schlosser, Noble Grand of the Grayslake lodge of Rebekahs, was present Friday evening, and acted as Noble Grand when the Antioch Chapter entertained the past Noble Grand. The meeting was well attended. Halloween games were played, refreshments served by the men, and each past Noble Grand presented with a yellow chrysanthemum.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 17, when the members will entertain the brothers of Rebekah members.

The Golden Text was, "For it by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ" (Romans 5:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright" (Ecclesiastes 7:29).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The great truth in the Science of being, that the real man was, is, and ever shall be perfect, is incontrovertible; for if man is the image, reflection, of God, he is neither inverted nor subverted, but upright and God-like" (p. 200).

Chevrolet Output Greatest Since 1929

Chevrolet built 37,699 new cars and trucks in October as compared with 69,357 in September and 1,205 in October a year ago. M. E. Coyle, general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company announced today.

This October was the best since 1929, and brought production for the first ten months of the year to 609,000 units as compared with 394,000 for all of last year, and 792,000 for the full year of 1931, Mr. Coyle stated.

He pointed out that the huge increase in October over last October—being more than thirty times as high—was due partly to an earlier seasonal plant shut-down last year than this, but added that production in October of 1933 was considerably greater than the combined output for the months of September, October and November of 1932.

For the six months ended October 31, this year, output was greater than for any comparable six months since 1929, Mr. Coyle said, a fact attesting to the abnormally high demand existing since the spring and early summer season.

Figures cited cover world production of the company. Mr. Coyle added that all but 3,500 units of the October output went to dealers in the United States.

The Logic of the Situation "Henry," exclaimed Mrs. Peck one evening, "are you aware that for the last hour I have been reading you my club essay on 'Women in Politics'?"

"Yes, my dear, I know it," responded Henry.

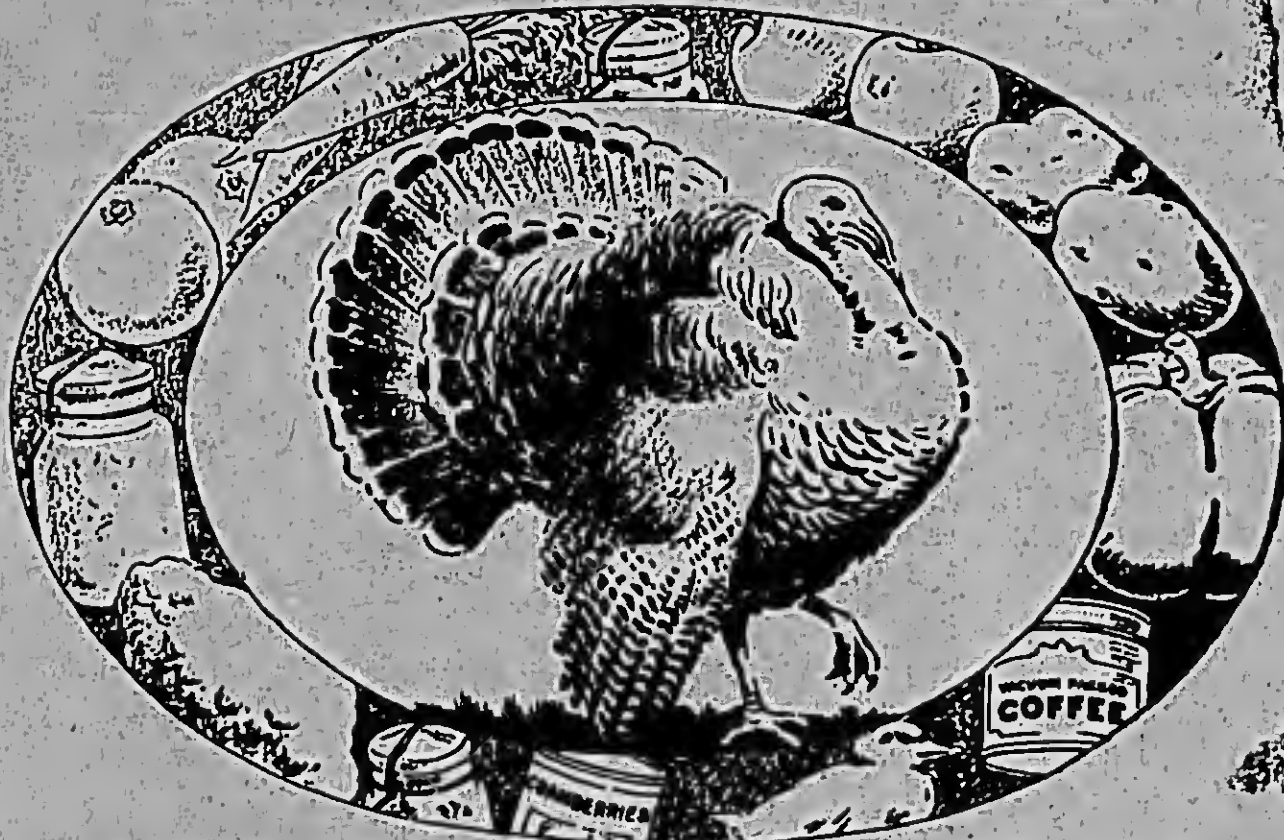

"But you went to sleep. Is that showing me the proper deference?"

"Why shouldn't I go to sleep? The superb logic of your arguments met every doubt so completely and solved every problem so absolutely that I was won over right at the start and I thought it was not necessary to stay awake."

"Well, then, that's all right," said Mrs. Peck.

A Year for Real Thanks

If there ever was a year when we should utter devout thanksgivings, it is this year when we are emerging from the shadow of the valley of depression, and it looks as if everyone will soon have a job again, and everyone will therefore eat. And, speaking of eating, there is no better way to celebrate Thanksgiving than with a bang-up dinner that will make you feel fit to pop.

Whatever have been your aspirations since that fatal fall of 1929 which seemed also the fall of everything else, this is one day in the year when everyone can devote his or her whole time to eating, so we are going to suggest a dinner to fit the occasion. Never mind the decorations this year, if you're still short of funds, but put all your money into food.

Here's the Menu

Fruit Cocktail in Orange (or Apple) Cases
Cream of Carrot Soup
Roast Duckling with Stuffing and Fried Apple Rings or
Roast Turkey with Mashed Cranberry Sauce
Whipped Potatoes
Baked Hubbard Squash
Hot Rolls
Home-Made Preserves
Pumpkin and Apple Layer Pie
Coffee
Dates Stuffed with Fondant

And here are the recipes for the dishes in this menu with which you may not be familiar:

Fruit Cocktail in Orange (or Apple) Cases: Cut one banana in cubes, and put it together with the drained contents of one No. 2 can of grapefruit and of one 1-pound can of sliced peaches in eight orange cases, having the peaches swirled around on the top. To make the orange cases, four oranges are required. Remove all the pulp from the cases, and keep them in ice water until needed. Halved out red or yellow apples can be used instead. After the fruit is arranged, pour over the chilled syrup from the cans of grapefruit and peaches, mixed with one tablespoon of fresh lime juice and one tablespoon of honey. Serves eight.

Decorative and Delicious

Cream of Carrot Soup: Make a white sauce of four tablespoons butter, four tablespoons flour, three cups milk and two cups of strained home-made or canned chicken broth. Press three cups of sliced carrots, or the contents of two 8-ounce cans of diced carrots, through a sieve, and add with their liquor. Add one-half cup cream, and season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve hot in cups, and on top of each one float a small round cracker on which is placed a rosette of whipped cream dusted with paprika. Serves eight.

Pumpkin and Apple Layer Pie: Mix together one-half cup sugar, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, three-fourths teaspoon ginger and one-half teaspoon salt. Add to one cup of home-cooked or canned pumpkin. Add two well-beaten eggs and one cup scalded milk. Pour into a pie tin lined with pie paste, bake at 450 degrees for ten minutes and then lower the heat to 325 degrees until set, or until a knife, inserted, comes out clean. Cool. Meanwhile soften one and one-half teaspoons gelatin in two tablespoons cold water. Dissolve over hot water and add to one and one-half cups home-cooked or canned apple sauce, with three tablespoons orange marmalade and a few grains of cinnamon. Chill. When it begins to set, spread over the pumpkin pie and chill again. Cover with whipped cream. Serves eight.

An Extra Dessert

And here's an extra dessert to be served where cider can be obtained. It is cool and sweet and satisfying, and takes very little trouble to make.

Cider Frappe: Boil one-half cup sugar and one-fourth cup water to a syrup. Soften one teaspoon gelatin in a little cider, and dissolve in the hot syrup. Cool, add two tablespoons lemon juice and three cups cider, and freeze to a stiff mush. If frozen in refrigerator, trays, stir several times or beat with Dover beater. Serves eight.

Will Our Civilization Be Destroyed?

By
LEONARD A. BARRETT

At a recent clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons, Dr. Charles H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., said, "The war of the future will be one of swift attack from the air. Planes will drop explosives, gas and disease germs which will be rained on centers of civilian population. This is a machine age and wars hereafter will be waged by technical men. We are spending a quarter of a billion dollars for warships which will be obsolete in ten years."

Is Doctor Mayo's statement correct? It certainly is, if the new social order, now in the making, continues to be entirely influenced by size, bulk and monetary power. The present civilization has been largely developed upon the mistaken idea that quantity is indicative of prosperity. Popular opinion acclaims the most prosperous man lives in the largest house, the most successful business enterprise is located in the most ostentatious building. The most important city is the one which can boast of the size of its parks, municipal buildings, bonded indebtedness and the financial security of its banks. The average man thinks of progress in terms of statistics, and success is measured by the balance sheet at the end of the year.

No sane person would venture the suggestion that we return to a condition of living prior to the time we possessed many of the comforts of our modern age. Nor would any person suggest that less money be spent on the development of the arts and sciences. Perhaps we need more of such cultural advantages. The permanence of our civilization, however, does not depend upon these possessions for the obvious reason that they all can be destroyed in the twinkling of an eye. In this respect again Doctor Mayo is right.

What guarantee have we then against the destruction of our civilization? The rise and fall of nations attest the truth of the statement, "A man's life consists not in the abundance of the things which he possesses." "If 99 per cent of reform is purely educative and the rest emotional and legislative," then is it not imperative that all forms of organized Christianity and all educational institutions teach the necessity of cultivating the spiritual values of life? Only when the spiritual transcends the material will our civilization be safe from those forces which laid in ashes other nations and completely annihilated their civilizations.

Upholstery Cleaners Remove The Drudgery From Housecleaning

Certain Furniture Polishes Found to Remove Stains Miraculously

The day of cleaning upholstery with a neutral soap suds, inch by inch, then rinsing with a sponge wrung from luke warm water and drying, is, or may be, happily past.

A new product is now on the market, coming in a five ounce can, which will clean a 9 x 12 rug, or 100 square feet of upholstery materials. At one and the same time it removes hair oil and perspiration stains, prevents dry rot, cleans and renders the upholstery moth-proof, and disinfects.

It may be used for linens, cottons, velours, velvets, chiffons, or coarser materials such as coverings or motor car seats.

Before using, remove surface dirt from material by brushing. Dissolve three tablespoons of cleaner in one quart of boiling water. When somewhat cooler apply to material with a clean brush, or piece of cheesecloth.

If delicate fabrics are to be cleaned, use a sponge for tapestries or draperies.

Wash with clean lukewarm water, using a damp cloth or clean sponge. Do not dry in the sun.

New Polishes on Market

There is a new furniture polish made of vegetable oils, which is supposed to remove ink stains from furniture.

There are also fumigants which evaporate readily, the vapors penetrating rugs, clothing, upholstery, etc., and reaching moths, carpet beetles, water bugs, cockroaches, and other household pests. It is not necessary to apply it to materials.

Simply pour into a shallow pan, place on a high shelf, and keep the room as air tight as possible, with the thermometer at about 70 degrees. After 24 hours ventilate the room thoroughly.

There are improvements being made in the furniture cleaning field as well as others, and the modern, alert housewife keeps herself posted in the changes.

GINGERBREAD MIXTURES TRANSFORM OLD AND OLD STANDBY

Mixtures, Delicious, and Whip Cream are Fine Toppings

Remember those delicious gingerbread men we used to make way with when? Of course the pleasure of making them ourselves from that last little bit of dough was half of it—shaping them, and sticking in raisins, and hovering anxiously around while they were baking.

Gingerbread is no longer the homely dessert it once was—it now comes out boldly and demands a place on the party menu. And why not? There are so many ways of making it, to suit any taste.

Tutti Frutti Gingerbread

2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon each ginger, cinnamon and baking powder
1/4 teaspoon cloves
2 eggs
1/2 cup softened shortening
1/2 cup sour milk or buttermilk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup molasses
1 cup chopped seeded raisins

Mix and sift dry ingredients, mix sour milk and molasses, then combine the mixtures. Beat in eggs one at a time, then add the chopped raisins (lightly floured). Finally beat in the slightly melted shortening. Beat well. Bake in two deep layer pans and put layers together when baked with the following:

Tutti Frutti Filling

1 1/2 cups white sugar
1 tablespoon cocoa
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup seeded raisins
1/2 cup chopped nut meats
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Mix all ingredients but the raisins. Mix and cook rapidly for five minutes, then add the raisins and chopped nuts and cook to the ball stage. Beat until thick and spread.

Pineapple Gingerbread

1 1/2 cups white sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 cups drained, crushed pineapple
1 recipe soft gingerbread

Melt the butter, add sugar, and when smooth and syrupy stir in the pineapple. Let stand in a warm place while a recipe of gingerbread is being made.

Mix the mixture in a bowl and spread 1/2 inch

And Now — Canned Beer!

HERE'S a new one! Beer in a can—the kind you can buy food in at the grocer's. Read the interview with H. W. Phelps, president of the American Canning Company, which has just been published in the Canning Trade.

Published in the Canning Trade, and try to figure out how many millions of cans will be needed if the distribution of beer for home consumption is made in this way.

Now's the interview!

"That the day of canned beer may not be far off has been verified by H. W. Phelps, president of the American Canning Company."

"Can't you hear him say, 'may' become a reality in the near future, because a really 'going out for beer' may be altered from 'going around the corner for a beer' to 'buying beer' in cans similar to those in which food is sold at the grocer's."

"The company has been experimenting in its laboratories for several years in the development of a beer can, and has succeeded in developing one that meets all requirements. At the same time we have developed a special beer can opener which makes opening a can of beer as quick and easy as taking a cap off a bottle. The can has had sufficient tests and has been found to be a sufficient number of brewers to indicate that the day of buying beer in such receptacles may not be far off."

"These home-use cans have a lining similar to that which has always been used on the inside of barrels to preserve the flavor of draught beer, and are in effect miniature kegs. They are perfectly safe to be of benefit to consumers because of their lesser size and weight. The can takes less than half the space that holds the same amount of beer."

thick in the bottom of muffin tin, pour the gingerbread batter over fruit, and bake 30 to 40 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Remove from the pan while hot and serve bottoms up, with or without whipped cream.

Foundation Cake

Let's start with the foundation for them all:

Soft Gingerbread

1/3 cup sugar
1/3 cup shortening
1 egg
1/3 cup molasses
1/3 cup buttermilk
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 1/3 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Cream together the sugar and shortening. Add the eggs, molasses, and buttermilk, which have been beaten together, and the dry ingredients, which have been sifted together. Bake in a square cake pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for forty-five minutes.

Serve this fluffy gingerbread warm with a hot chocolate sauce, or with frozen whipped cream. To prepare frozen whipped cream until stiff; the latter, whip cream until stiff; the latter, whip cream until stiff; the latter, whip cream until stiff.

beaten into stiff peaks, and pile on mounds in freezing trays which have been lined with waxed paper. Freeze for several hours, remove from the trays, and top each serving of gingerbread with a mound of frozen cream.

Weatherstrips Will Keep Out Chill Air

Tight Doors and Windows Prevent Escaping Heat; Save on Fuel

That last freeze we had when the mercury in the thermometer sank to about 25 degrees brings painfully to mind the approaching winter with its gusty winds and piercing cold. And what about those creaks and cracks between frame and window sash, or under doors?

Not only do outside doors require weatherstripping—inside doors, particularly bedroom or nursery doors, should be tight to prevent drafts, and to keep the cold air entering from open windows at night from chilling the entire house.

One of the types of weatherstripping most frequently used, and the least expensive is that of wood and felt, or all felt. Both are effective in preventing air infiltration, and for keeping the house cleaner in summer. A more expensive but more enduring type is metal stripping. Rubber is also good.

An ordinary house allows an air change about every two hours in winter through the door and window cracks; while cheaply built or old houses permit entrance to much more cold air.

There are many people who realize the necessity for using strips on doors, but completely neglect windows. However, loose windows are responsible for just as many drafts, and run up the fuel bill almost as much as do doors.

To supplement weatherstripping on windows, one may use storm sashes, or putty rattly windows.

Not only do outside doors require weatherstripping—inside doors, particularly bedroom or nursery doors, should be tight to prevent drafts, and to keep the cold air entering from open windows at night from chilling the entire house.

One of the types of weatherstripping most frequently used, and the least expensive is that of wood and felt, or all felt. Both are effective in preventing air infiltration, and for keeping the house cleaner in summer. A more expensive but more enduring type is metal stripping. Rubber is also good.

An ordinary house allows an air change about every two hours in winter through the door and window cracks; while cheaply built or old houses permit entrance to much more cold air.

There are many people who realize the necessity for using strips on doors, but completely neglect windows. However, loose windows are responsible for just as many drafts, and run up the fuel bill almost as much as do doors.

To supplement weatherstripping on windows, one may use storm sashes, or putty rattly windows.

Weatherstrips Will Keep Out Chill Air

Tight Doors and Windows Prevent Escaping Heat; Save on Fuel

That last freeze we had when the mercury in the thermometer sank to about 25 degrees brings painfully to mind the approaching winter with its gusty winds and piercing cold. And what about those creaks and cracks between frame and window sash, or under doors?

Not only do outside doors require weatherstripping—inside doors, particularly bedroom or nursery doors, should be tight to prevent drafts, and to keep the cold air entering from open windows at night from chilling the entire house.

PIN CUSHIONS AND JELLIES MAKE FINE CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

It isn't quite time to start the cry "Only 60 more more days till Christmas," but glance at your calendar, and you'll see that there's just a little more than six weeks left. Time to start thinking about those hand-made gifts—pillows, embroidered materials, lamp shades, dolls, and culinary dainties.

About three weeks ago we suggested using sewing scraps as cushion fillers. If you occasionally like to give hand made pillows as gifts, this suggestion may prove valuable to you. One lady uses scraps for filling pin cushions—you know the old pin cushion collects dust, becomes dingy looking, and is likely to cause needles to rust. Pin cushions cleverly made are a useful as well as ornamental gift to any feminine friend.

Jellies for Christmas

It's too early to plan Christmas candles, or baked delicacies, but it is not too early to start putting up gift glasses of jelly, while fresh fruit is still plentiful on the market. Sick friends, poor families, or nice elderly ladies would be very appreciative of such a remembrance.

Blue Ridge Mountain Jelly

12 tart apples
12 quinces

1 quart cranberries
2 cups Concord grapes

Wash all fruit, looking over the grapes and cranberries carefully and discarding any imperfect fruit. Cut apples and quinces into little pieces, but do not peel. Put all into kettle and cover with cold water. Let cook until soft, then strain, but do not squeeze bag, as in doing so you will spoil the clearness of the juice. Next measure same amount of sugar as of juice. Let juice cook for about five minutes before adding the sugar.

Continue boiling until jelly shows signs of congealing when dropped from spoon. Pour into glasses which have been sterilized. When jelly is cold cover with melted paraffin.

Did you know that a beautiful jelly with the clearness of a flawless ruby could be made by combining the pomegranate with quinces or tart apples?

Use Pomegranates

If apples are used instead of quinces for this jelly, the Spitzenberg would be our choice. (And by the way, the Spitzenberg makes the finest apple jelly). To get back to the recipe—wash apples (or quinces) but do not peel. Cut into little pieces. Peel pomegranates and separate seeds from the inner white part to which they cling. Cover fruit with cold water and let come to a boil, continuing until fruit is soft. Strain and measure cup of fruit juice to cup of sugar.

Proceed the usual way until juice falls in thick drops from the spoon. Pour into sterilized glasses and, when cold, cover with paraffin. This is an excellent jelly to serve with game or fowl.

MORE THAN LIGHT

Did you ever stop to think that electricity means much more than good light in your home?

Electricity waits for you on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Sunday, keeps your food cool, winds your clock and entertains you by radio, day and night.

It is a clean, efficient, magic servant constantly at your command.

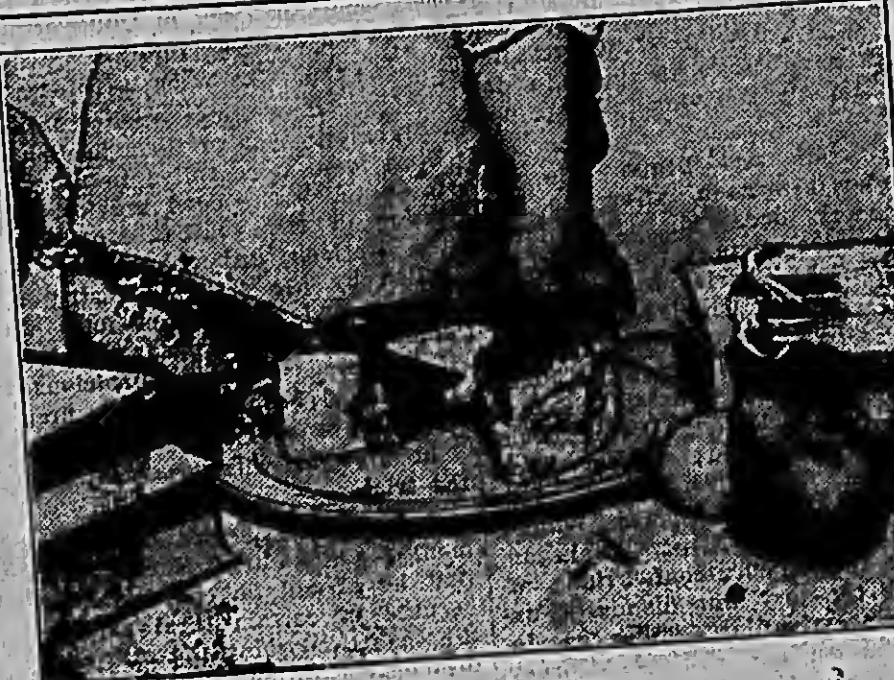

Most homes are but then half of their electricity for illumination. But in spite of this increasing use of electricity for heat, vacuum cleaners, refrigerators, radios and other electric appliances, your total monthly bill has been slightly offset because of the constant by day and night.

Well Balanced, Tasty Luncheon Can Cure Classroom Drowsiness

By Jane Rogers

NOW that the younger members of the family have returned to school, the subject of the children's lunch becomes highly important. Teachers who have to contend with their pupils' afternoon drowsiness, will agree with this.

Whether the lunch is eaten at home, or carried to school with the books, it should be well balanced and nourishing. As vegetables can not travel in the lunch box, lettuce in some of the sandwiches and fresh fruits must help supply the deficiency. If the children eat at deficiency. If the children eat at

In the county jail as soon as the verdict was returned, and his bond doubled to $10,000. Both Wilson and Pester have been retained in jail since last April, having failed to post bond.

The trial was begun late last Thursday afternoon, after the final juror was accepted. The jurors sworn were George H. Berghorn, Lake Zurich; Charles A. Ruhl, Lake Bluff; A. B. Hill, Highland Park; William Poulton, Diamond Lake; Chas. Delhaye, Highland Park; Thomas Eastwood, Lake Forest; George Griswald, Waukegan; Percy Cummings, Lake Forest; Walter Sims, Waukegan; Russell Cateron, Barrington; Thomas Kirehner, Waukegan; and Edward Short, Waukegan.

After the adjournment Friday afternoon, the jury was dismissed until Monday morning, while the defense counsel and State's Attorney Charles Mason argued before Judge Dady Saturday morning over the admissibility of documents containing confessions said to have been made by the defendants last spring.

Judge Dady allowed the admission of the confession taken by Paul E. Bertram, former state fire marshal, but refused to admit confessions taken by Mason and Deputy Sheriff John Froelich, including alleged admission to two burglaries as well as arson.

Defendants "Don't Remember"

The three defendants took the witness stand Tuesday and repudiated confessions supposed to have been made last spring, on the claim that they were forced to make them although they knew that they were innocent.

Pester told of a drinking party on the night of the fire, in which he and his companions visited several roadhouses, but he claimed to have been too intoxicated to remember anything that happened during the early morning hours. Four cases of beer and three pints of alcohol were consumed by the four, the defendants admitted.

Hucker and Wilson, while admitting remembering making the trip with Pester, denied entering the hotel building. They said that they got out of the car on one side, and Pester got out on the other and went ahead. They started to walk toward the place, they claimed, when they heard glass break and saw a burst of flames. They ran back to the car where they were joined by Pester within a few minutes, according to their testimony, and Pester said that they'd better be getting away from there.

They returned later, however, after the Antioch and Lake Villa fire departments had arrived, and attempted to aid in fighting the fire.

Call 25 Character Witnesses

More than twenty-five character witnesses, many of them leading Antioch men, were called to the stand to establish the good previous reputation of the youths. Members of the Antioch fire department were called by the state to testify that Pester and his companions were among the first to appear at this fire, which aroused their suspicions as Pester had been among the first to arrive at several other fires.

In all, 135 witnesses testified at the trial.

George Field, in his closing argument for his client Hucker, argued that he should not be found guilty because of certain legal aspects of the case concerning the alleged confessions. Attorney Snyder pleaded for Wilson on the grounds of his past good record and the many witnesses testifying to his good reputation before becoming involved in the arson case. Attorney McHenry asked the jury to be lenient to Pester because he was too intoxicated to know what he was doing.

All arguments were refuted by State's Attorney Mason, who insisted that the three should be found guilty. The jury retired at 4:30 and shortly after 6 o'clock returned an unanimous verdict of guilty.
